

Summer Music Camp 2010

General Information

The Episcopal Church of the Redeemer is pleased to announce its fifth annual Summer Music Camp, Monday, July 19, through Friday, July 23, 2010, 10:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. daily. The camp, designed for children and youth ages 7-15 (campers must have completed first grade), will be staffed by three professional musical educators from the Washington, DC metropolitan area (see reverse side for details). Tuition for the week is $325. This includes a non-refundable fee of $100 due at registration. As staff is contracted and supplies are purchased according to the number of campers, no tuition will be refunded once camp has begun. Camp highlights include:

- Utilization of portions of the Orff and Dalcroze methodologies
- Introduction to reading musical notation
- Study of rhythm through motion
- Study of basic vocal production and solfege
- Choral singing
- Arts and Crafts
- Organized outdoor recreation time on the church grounds
- Visit to the historic carousel at Glen Echo Park
- Nature Walk
- Lunch and a snack provided daily
- Teacher/student ratio approximately 1 to 6
- Scholarships available for those who cannot afford tuition

We hope that your child(ren) will join us for a week of musical learning and fun! For more information, please contact Thomas Smith, Director of Music, at 301.229.3770, or by e-mail at music.redeemer@verizon.net. Deadline for registration is June 15, 2010.

Summer Music Camp Staff

John Barnes was born and raised in Heathsville, Virginia. He completed a Bachelor of Science degree in Music Education at Duquesne University in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. While in Pittsburgh, John was an active member of the local chapter of MENC: The National Association for Music Education, hosting several outreach events and presenting at state and national conferences of the organization.

After completing his internship in Pittsburgh, John moved to Gainesville, Florida where he earned a Master of Music degree in Saxophone Performance at the University of Florida. An active recitalist, John has given invited performances at regional and national conferences of the North American Saxophone Alliance, as well as at the United States Navy Band Saxophone Symposium. He has also performed with Sarah Brightman.

John completed the Level IV training in Orff-Schulwerk at George Mason University and is certified in Orff-Schulwerk pedagogy. He is a member of MENC: The National Association for Music Education, The Mid-Atlantic Chapter of the American Orff-Schulwerk Association and the National American Orff-Schulwerk Association. The 2009-10 academic year is his sixth teaching at Sully Elementary in Loudoun County, Virginia. In addition to his duties at Sully, John teaches first grade music at Forest Grove Elementary, teaches at The Church of the Redeemer's Summer Music Camp, and maintains a private saxophone studio at Park View High School.

Laura Bercaw Petersen currently teaches general and choral music at St. Patrick's Episcopal Day School in Washington, D.C. She has also taught in Montgomery County Public Schools and Alexandria City Public Schools. Laura earned her Bachelor of Science in Music Education from Gettysburg College and is in the process of completing a Master of Music in Music Education at George Mason University. Last summer, Laura earned Level IV certification in Orff-Schulwerk from George Mason University. She is an active member of MENC: The National Association of Music Education, American Choral Director's Association and the Mid-Atlantic Chapter of the American Orff-Schulwerk Association, attending workshops and conferences throughout the school year and summer. In her spare time, Laura sings with the Master Chorale of Washington, performing at the Kennedy Center several times a year. She also enjoys knitting, reading, and kayaking.

A native of Philadelphia, Thomas Smith began his study of the organ at age 16, while a student at Saint Joseph's Preparatory School. His first teacher was John Binsfeld, Organist and Choirmaster at historic Old Christ Church, Philadelphia. In 2002, Tom received the Bachelor of Music degree in Organ Performance and Sacred Music from Duquesne University, having studied with John Walker and David Craighead. While in Pittsburgh, he served for three years as Organ Scholar and Assistant Organist at Calvary Episcopal Church.

In 2004, Tom was chosen to participate in the London Organ Summer Course, an intensive, weeklong series of lessons and master classes with several of England's leading organists. While in London, he made his European debut with performances at Westminster Abbey, Westminster Cathedral and St. Giles Church, Cripplegate.

In 2005, Tom was awarded the Master of Music degree from the Peabody Institute of the Johns Hopkins University, where he studied with Donald Sutherland. At Peabody, he was a two-time recipient of the Dorothy L. deCourt Prize in Organ Performance as well as a George Peabody Career Development Grant.

A Colleague of the American Guild of Organists (AGO) and Chair of Region III of the Association of Anglican Musicians (AAM), Tom serves as Director of Music and Organist at The Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, where he oversees a growing music program. In addition to his duties at the Church, Tom maintains an active schedule of teaching and performing, with concerts given across the eastern United States and in Europe.
